

Mori Building Enters into Partnership with Los Angeles Dodgers

Leveraging perspectives from top-tier sports entertainment to drive new value in urban life

Tokyo, March 27, 2026 – Mori Building Co., Ltd., Japan’s leading urban landscape developer, announced today that it has entered into a multi year partnership agreement with the prestigious Los Angeles Dodgers (Los Angeles, California; hereinafter "Dodgers").

Founded in 1890, the Dodgers are a franchise built on a tradition of pride and excellence, having won 9 World Championships and 26 league pennants. Boasting the highest cumulative attendance across North American major league sports, the Dodgers are one of the most popular professional sports brands in the world.

This partnership was realized following the collaboration to produce the 'Dodgers Experience,' the team's first-ever exhibition held at TOKYO NODE in Toranomom Hills, Tokyo, in March 2025. The event drew significant attention and marked a meaningful first step in developing our partnership. We are honored to support a franchise that unites fans globally. Leveraging the same spirit of excellence, we continue our journey to redefine urban value and deliver unforgettable experiences through our urban development initiatives.

Our Vision for this Partnership

For many decades, Mori Building has undertaken numerous large-scale urban redevelopment projects, including the Roppongi Hills, Azabudai Hills and Toranomom Hills mixed-use complexes, primarily in central Tokyo’s Minato Ward. Guided by its “Create Cities, Nurture Cities” philosophy, the company has contributed significantly to Tokyo’s magnetism as a global city that attracts people, goods, capital and information from around the world. Harnessing the Dodgers’ industry expertise and established brand affinity, we seek to design differentiated experiences aligned with the franchise’s standard of world-class excellence. Also, we aim to highlight the appeal of “Hills” and our urban development philosophy and achievements, to further strengthen and promote the cultural vibrancy of Tokyo.

About “Dodgers Experience” at TOKYO NODE

The “Dodgers Experience” exhibition, held in Tokyo in March 2025, attracted significant attention in Japan and internationally as the first exhibition in the Dodgers' long history. Located within TOKYO NODE, an information hub in the Toranomon Hills Station Tower building, the exhibition featured cutting-edge technologies, such as volumetric video (free-viewpoint imaging), to enable visitors to experience the world of the Dodgers in new ways within an urban space. The success of this collaboration paved the way for the newly announced partnership between Mori Building and the Dodgers.
